

Sutherland Village will be taken out of service as a residential community in May of 2010. In an effort to mitigate the impact of this transition upon the residential community, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Tim Rogers appointed a "Transition Task Force" with representation from the surrounding community as well as University staff, faculty, tenants and students.

Charge: The Sutherland Village Transition Task Force is charged with the responsibility of identifying transition issues, developing solutions and offering guidance designed to facilitate timely and adequate planning that will ensure an orderly transition for the tenants now residing in Sutherland Village. To the extent possible, the Task Force will also identify and address any residual "long range" concerns that might have affected individuals that would have otherwise been projected or anticipated to have been future constituencies (however small) seeking this type or a similar niche within the living options offered through the Department of University Housing.
